

GRANT RECIPIENTS 2016

▶▶▶ For 49 years, the Walk for Hunger has been a demonstration of neighbors caring for one another in Massachusetts. People of all ages and walks of life unite to call attention to the local issue of hunger and raise critical funds to support programs around the state that protect people from hunger and strengthen our local food systems.

In 2016, through the power of the Walk, and with the help of our generous supporters, Project Bread invested in more than 300 community food programs—including soup kitchens, food pantries, meal programs, food vouchers at health centers, summer meals for kids, subsidized CSA shares, community farm and gardens, food rescue programs, and much more.
